About Stony Brook Eastern Long Island Hospital

With 90 beds, Stony Brook Eastern Long Island Hospital (SBELIH) is a full-service, community hospital committed to delivering excellence in patient care and meeting the current and emerging health needs of the North Fork and Shelter Island. A campus of Stony Brook University Hospital, SBELIH also provides regional behavioral health programs serving the greater Suffolk County area. In 2019, Eastern Long Island Hospital joined with Stony Brook Medicine to preserve the mission of our founders and to better serve our community.

At SBELIH, inpatients are under the care of Board Certified hospitalists, physicians who specialize in inpatient medicine and taking care of hospitalized patients. SBELIH is fully accredited by the Joint Commission.

Located on the North Fork of Long Island, employees enjoy working in a beautiful waterfront setting. Looking for a rewarding place to work? Stony Brook Eastern Long Island Hospital's "culture of caring" sets us apart from other community hospitals. We have a commitment to caring, and we invest in our community by investing in you. On the North Fork since 1905, SBELIH is here to serve the community we call home.

Life on the North Fork of Long Island

The North Fork is the eastern portion of the North Shore of Long Island in Suffolk County. This area is one of the last remaining vestiges of rural country living on Long Island. The region has been designated as an American Viticultural Area for its rich lands suitable for growing wine grapes. The proximity to the Long Island Sound, the Peconic Bay and the Atlantic Ocean helps moderate temperature fluctuations, making the growing season stretch late into the year.

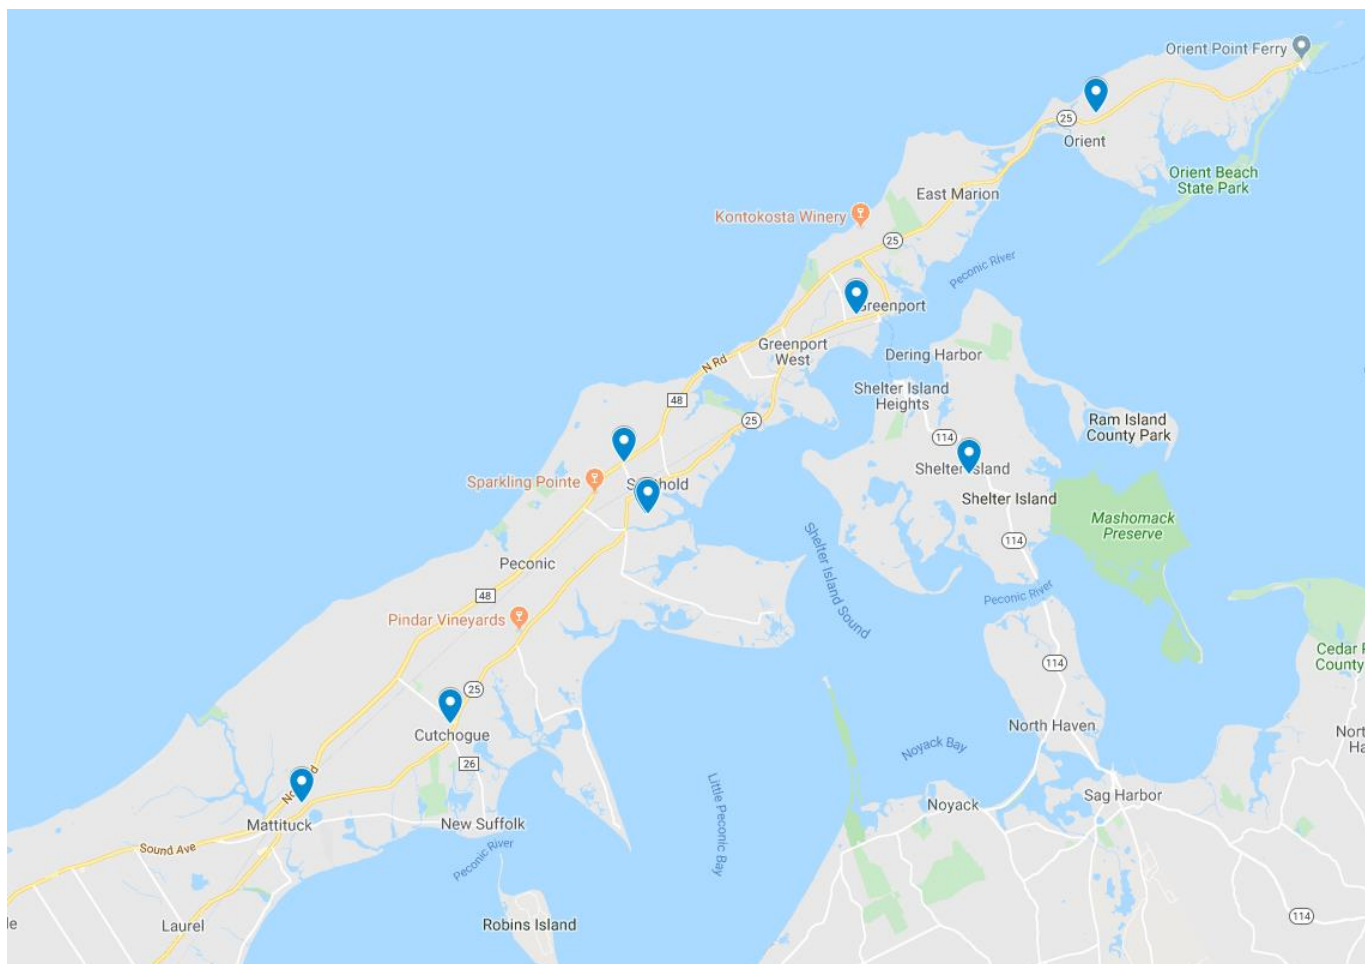

Merlot, Chardonnay and Cabernet Franc are the three main wines produced in this region. Route 25, the main road stretching out to Orient Point, is lined with vineyards and wineries, and wine tasting is a main attraction for tourists in the area.

The North Fork is home to several pristine beaches that open to the Long Island Sound and the Peconic Bay. Orient Beach State Park, situated near the tip of the North Fork, welcomes visitors to enjoy these beautiful waters. Fishing and water sports are also major industries in this region, and boating is among the most popular recreations for local residents.

The area is also home to many local attractions and kid-friendly stops. The Long Island Aquarium & Exhibition Center is a very popular place to visit. Visitors can view aquatic life, catch a sea lion show, and if you're up to it, even swim with the sharks. The North Fork is also home to many museums teeming with information about the local area and its history. If it's a hot day and you're looking to cool off, bring the family to Splish Splash and wade in the lazy river or speed down a waterslide into a refreshing pool.

With so much to do and see on the North Fork you'll be wishing you had endless amounts of time to explore it.

North Fork Vineyards & Wineries

The North Fork is a thriving viticulture area. With rich soil and terrain suitable for growing grapes the roads leading all the way down to the very end of Long Island are abundant in wineries and vineyards. The North Fork alone has around 50 different vineyards for visitors to step in for a tasting. The wine region is also very diverse producing wines from chardonnay to merlot, Riesling to rosé.

Farm Stands & Farmers Markets

Once you've passed the busy commercial center of Riverhead it is almost as if you've been transported to a different, rural place, much more akin to areas of Upstate New York. Littered all along the long strip of land leading to Orient Point are miles and miles of farm stands. From fresh produce to gorgeous flowers, pick-your-own berries in summer to fun hayrides in autumn, farm stands provide lots of seasonal food and fun for visitors of the North Fork.

North Fork Beaches

Spend some time soaking up the sun at the beautiful beaches lining the North Fork of Long Island. Dig your toes into the sand and take a dip in the Long Island Sound. Whether you want to work on your tan, spend the morning people watching, or get some exercise out in the open water, these picturesque beaches are the perfect places to do so.

Local Golf Courses

Spend a day hitting the links and working on your game at one of the many golf courses on the North Fork. The public courses have exciting layouts and primly landscaped greens ranging from beginner courses to professional level courses. Depending on how much time you have to spend on the green, the golf courses around the North Fork feature both 9-hole and 18-hole course layouts so you can plan and play accordingly.

Fun for Kids

There is tons of fun to be had for kids along the North Fork. Kids can view underwater life at the aquarium, learn something new at a museum, eat homemade ice cream, pet and feed farm animals, and ride around town on rented bikes. Each town along the North Fork has their very own unique attractions geared towards kids so as you make your way down the northern strip, if you have time, be sure to stop in town for some fun.
